Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of species B, Figs. 1, 4 and 5 in the reply filed on 12/1/2009 is acknowledged.

Claims 5, 7-26 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b).

In regards to claim 5, applicant indicates that it reads on the elected embodiment but, the elected embodiment does not have the straight flanks adjacent the thread edge as claimed in claim 5. Therefore claim 5 is also non-elected. In fact, there does not appear to be a drawing corresponding to the embodiment of claim 5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 6 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Onasch (US 4,527,932). Onasch discloses a screw having a thread with two concavely formed flanks (7) form a thread edge (5) with an apex angle of 30° (column 2, line 62) which is less than then an imaginary flank angle formed by imaginary flanks extending straight between the thread edge and the thread root (3). The screw is described as a self tapping screw thus it inherently is thread forming and with a head. Fig. 1 shows the screw pitch (17) approximately $\frac{1}{2}$ the outer diameter (11). The flanks are concave over the entire height of the thread which is inclusive of at least part of the height.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 28 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Onasch as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Yamashiro (US 4,536,117). Yamashiro discloses a screw having a tip (15) formed as a point thus would have automatic piercing properties. At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the screw of Onasch with a tip as disclosed in Yamashiro because such a tip would guide the screw into proper engagement with the substrate.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
